CHALLENGE

"I had found myself in a nest of beer nerds and I thought this is a terrible thing. I like good beer. I like craft beer. These are all good things, but you know, drinking is supposed to be fun, right?"

- Anthony Bourdain

SOLUTION

"Put Bourdain in a brewery and get him drunk." - No Life 'Til Lager

MISSION

A travel show focusing on new American lager breweries and the world's best selling beverage. No Life 'Til Lager is about the brewers that make it, the people who drink it, the setting and soundtrack that brings us together for a perfect pint. Hosted by Advanced Cicerone® Adam Zuniga.

LOGLINE

Lager is the most intensive and expensive beer to produce, a true labor of love. Arriving with immigrants to The US, we now have the greatest number of local breweries crafting lagers. It's widely consumed from music venues to sport stadiums, bars to restaurants; the first choice front of house and among chefs in the kitchen. Join us for a tour of the country as taste in beer comes full circle, proving there is No Life 'Til Lager.
